SumoBots

Product Name: SumoBots

Manufacturer: -

Model Number: pgg163

This state-of-the-art Sumo hybrid is one of the most innovative and enthralling games we've ever seen - and we've seen a lot! Using hi-tech infra-red remote controllers players must manoeuvre their brainy little R2D2-esque SumoBots around in order to bash opponents out of the playing area. You can go head to head against a friend or battle it out with a computer-controlled SumoBot. Sounds pretty straightforward but SumoBots are highly sophisticated little fellows that 'learn' from each battle. You can create unique SumoBot actions on your PC via software available on the Silverlit website. You then print off your moves in barcode format and load them onto your SumoBot using the special barcode reader. Clever, eh! As well as built-in Artificial Intelligence each SumoBot features LEDs and sound effects to indicate the state of play and infra-red sensors to communicate with opponents.
