Heart Cushtie

Product Name: Heart Cushtie

Manufacturer: -

Model Number: pgg184

Just like its best selling bedfellow, this terrifically tactile pillow features a gorgeously stretchy outer skin which encases thousands of super-soft polystyrene micro-granules. These allow the Heart Cushtie to mould itself into the shape it's being pressed into - be it your head, hands, face or body. And no matter what you do to the Heart Cushtie, its bead filling will just squish it back into shape. Of course, the difference with this one is that it's shaped like a heart, so as well as looking supremely funky it makes a fabulously romantic present for that special someone in your life. Best of all you can relax, safe in the knowledge that the object of your desire is getting up close and personal with a pressie purchased by little old you. Just think, every time they snuggle into it the first person they think of will be you. (Hopefully).
