Fliklite Torch Aluminium

Product Name: Fliklite Torch Aluminium

Manufacturer: -

Model Number: pgg237

Would the kids in Blair Witch have been quite so petrified if they'd been packing a Fliklite torch instead of a puny half-arsed 'flashlight'? I very much doubt it. So why make do with a trashy, throw away plastic torch when you can light up the stratosphere with the obscenely powerful Fliklite? Actually, there is another option, but that involves buying 24,000 candles and nipping round with a Bic attempting to light the lot, while simultaneously trying to keep the elements from blowing them out. Bit of a non-starter, really. The Fliklite is bright - its four ultra-bright LEDs are guaranteed for 50,000 hours, so you'll never experience the terror of having your torch dramatically fade while fleeing from a cloaked, axe-wielding madman through a remote forest, for example. The Fliklite is waterproof to a depth of 30 metres and features a unique, patented on/off switch: a flick of the wrist turns it on and tapping the base turns it off. Hence the name. Features: Machined from a solid Aluminium bar Unique patented internal on/off switching - Flick on, Flick off Waterproof down to 30 metres Has the power of 24,000 candles using 4 Ultra Bright light emitting diodes (LEDs). LEDs guaranteed for at least 50,000 hours. At least 20 hours of continuous illumination from one set of 3 x 'N' cell batteries (Aluminium) Solid state circuitry Dazzling blue tinged white light visible from 5 miles (LS:1) Weight: aluminium - 388g; LS1 - 321g Dimensions: 12.5 x 3.5 x 3.5cm Requires 2 x "N" batteries (supplied with product).
