Do not Break The Bottle

Product Name: Do not Break The Bottle

Manufacturer: -

Model Number: pgg222

Drinking wine is one of life's greatest pleasures. Ergo, not being able to open the flippin' bottle is one of life's greatest frustrations. After all, we all know how infuriating it is when you can't find a corkscrew. So just imagine how exasperating it would be if you had a bottle and a corkscrew but still couldn't get at your lovely plonk. But how could that happen, you ask? Well, quite easily really. All you need is Don't Break the Bottle. This fiendish wooden puzzle is an ingenious gift that will amuse and infuriate - depending on whether you give or receive it. Simply lock the bottle of your choice in its seemingly impenetrable embrace and present it to your host/victim. At first glance, this clumpy confusion of blocks, balls and rope appears easy to solve. In fact, recipients may even titter at your thinly-veiled malevolence and applaud your twisted sense of humour. But not for long. After a few failed attempts, they'll be pulling faces worthy of The Hulk trying to do a Rubik Cube. And, as full on dipsomania sets in, they'll be begging you to reveal the solution. (Walking out at this point is a seriously good joke). As well as being a brilliant party gift, Don't Break the Bottle is an ideal way to store that special bottle of wine when thirsty houseguests call. It's also a great dinner party tool, as guests will be so flummoxed and amused they'll probably overlook the fact that the plonk you've locked inside is el cheapo vino collapse. Don't Break the Bottle is guaranteed to make you the talking point of any social gathering, as everyone will want a go at solving it. Best of all, hosts won't know whether to thank you or throttle you, making it the perfect gift for friends and enemies alike. Cheers, chin chin, bottoms up and salute! The solution to the puzzle is included in the instructions, so if your recipient goes mad with frustration, you can let them know how to solve it. Or not. The choice is yours...
